There's now just one name for all your mineral wool insulation needs ... Earthwool®. Replacing Knauf Insulation's Crown and Rocksilk brands, Earthwool® unifies the core glass and rock mineral wool range with ECOSE® Technology, representing the ultimate solution for any application.

However, this is more than just a new name, it's a whole new kind of mineral wool insulation that is naturally brown. One that offers significant improvements in terms of feel, handling and environmental performance whilst still delivering all the benefits you are used to from our traditional mineral wool. Thanks to ECOSE® Technology - the revolutionary bio-based binder technology - Earthwool® is easy to install and offers levels of sustainability that we can all feel good about.
